

M346 Design for alterations to a garage in Cheyne Walk, Chelsea

Introduction

Mackintosh made two measured sketches of an existing, apparently two-storey, garage located not far from his Chelsea studio in Glebe Place. The annotated sketches appear to record existing materials and fittings as well as showing proposed alterations to walls and windows, and the installation of gas and stoves. Neither the precise location of the garage nor the client are known. It is not known whether the work was carried out.

Authorship: This project is known only from Mackintosh's sketches.

Job Book

The job books of Honeyman & Keppie (later Honeyman, Keppie & Mackintosh) are now held by The Hunterian, University of Glasgow and include four volumes related to the Mackintosh period. The books were used by the firm to keep a project-by-project, day-by-day record of contractors, suppliers and expenditure. The name of a project and/or client is usually at the top of the left-hand page, followed by information about tradesmen who tendered. The name of the measurer (quantity surveyor) is usually at the top of the right-hand page, followed by information about payments to contractors and suppliers. All of the data for M346 is entered in the tables below.

Page numbering is not consistent in the job books. Sometimes a single number refers to a double-page spread and sometimes each page is individually numbered. Here, each image of a double-page spread is identified by the number given at the top of the left-hand page. (Images of all of the pages from the four job books can be found at Browse Job Books, Visit Book and Cash Book.)
